CHELSEA.

Stanley C. Wilson was in Sharon Friday on business.

Mrs. Frank E. Dixby has recently entertained at her guest Mrs. C. C. Hill of Montpelier.

Mrs. Ida J. Mowry of Wilder came last week to spend a few days in town at the guest of Madam Ann E. Goss.

At a meeting of Court Chelsea, Independent Order of Foresters the first of the week two members were initiated.

Mrs. Norman W. Hunt, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Albert Demondet, of South Royalton returned Thursday.

Mrs. Charles E. Godfrey returned the first of the week from a visit of several weeks to her home, Mrs. Fred E. Weeks, of Shirley, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cox of Walden are visiting the latter's sister, Madam Sylvia Dearborn, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Burbank, on the east hill.

Rufus K. Abbott of Washington and Fred C. Waldo of this town have recently been appointed commissioners of the estate of the late Pamela Ann Butler of South Washington.

Joseph McConnell, who has lived on the west hill disposed of his stock and with his son, Cecil, left Tuesday for West Kennebunk, Maine, where they will spend the winter with the former's daughter, Mrs. Sadie (McConnell) Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Bell of Leominster, Mass., are guests at the Orange country house. Mr. Bell who is at present the managing editor of the Leominster Daily Enterprise will be remembered as manager of the Bell Shoe factory, which was a business enterprise here some fifteen years ago.

Mrs. Daniels, wife of the pastor of the local Methodist church has organized an auxiliary to the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the church, with the following officers, president, Anna Dearborn; vice-president, Cora Rogers; recording secretary, Alice Long; corresponding secretary, Hattie Halvorsen; treasurer, Jessie Davis. Their first study will be that of the Island World.

A nice yearling colt owned by Wilder H. Dearborn was discovered Friday afternoon by Mrs. F. L. Whitney in a well. She immediately gave the alarm and in a few minutes about thirty men had assembled with ropes to extricate the poor animal from its uncomfortable and perilous sitting position in the well which was about seven feet deep. As soon as the ropes could be adjusted "the boys" threw it with a long pull and a strong pull and the young filly was landed safe but perhaps not sound, as in her endeavor to liberate herself she had laid bare the bone on her left forward leg for several inches below the knee. In about fifteen minutes after she had been raised from the well and was assisted to her feet and with the aid of three or four men to steady her she walked nearly a half mile to Mr. Dearborn's livery barn where Dr. W. H. Hill dressed the wound. She had been missed about two hours during which time she was probably in the well.
